“ I can't seem to add my memory (below)--hope you can add it for me. Helen Eggleston Living two houses away from Agnes I can't think of "home" without thinking of her. She was there through my: growing up, college, first jobs, joining the Air Force, parent's funerals, wedding, and was like a grandmother to my daughter. I have wonderful memories in Agnes' living room enjoying her homemade divinity, sitting on the porch swing, having a picnic on the lawn, or at the kitchen table playing games, laughing and sharing stories. I always looked forward to "coming home" to Agnes' and Mary's smiling faces and loving support, which left me ready and confident to face the world's challenges again. She taught us what was really valuable in life...and her prayers carried me through difficult times. Agnes is in heaven but she will continue to help all who knew her throughout our lives, as we try to emulate and pass on her love to our family and friends. Helen Eggleston

“ My dearest Agnes, growing up next to you since I was 2yrs old, I always considered you my grandma,
You never yelled when I picked your flowers and you were always understanding as I grew up and you loved seeing my daughter grow up as well. I will always miss you but I know you're in peace now

“ Sorry for your loss....work with her at Safeway...

“ I also worked at Safeway and had many conversations with her on our break times there. She was my mother's (Julie Schmitz) cousin, so had ties with family, too. She was one of the most kind and gentle human beings I have ever met. God bless her soul. Carol Schmitz Sondgeroth

“ Danny, Mary and Ann, you have our sympathy. Agnes was such a nice neighbor. I know she and my Mom had many lengthy phone conversations, which was funny because they lived just across the street from each other. Mark & Jolene Stoelk
