Al, the son of Ray and Delores (Rattenborg) Schaeuble was born on October 14, 1953 in Carroll Iowa. He was the third oldest of ten children. He attended grade school in Templeton, Storm Lake, and Battle Creek. While in grade school, Al played baseball. He and his brothers enjoyed fishing, hunting, and trapping. He graduated from Kuemper High School in Carroll.

During high school, he worked at Fareway Grocery Store. After graduation, Al attended mechanic's school at W.I.T. in Sioux City. He later worked at Farmland in Carroll, and Del Monte in Minnesota.

Al battled mental illness since the age of 19. When his disease became more severe, and he couldn't live alone, he lived in several group homes including Storm Lake and Guthrie Center. His mental health had been stable for decades when his physical health began to decline. Al moved to Sioux City in 2013 where he lived at Westwood Nursing Home.

Al had a giving heart, and a brilliant mind. You would not have a dull conversation in Al's company. Some of Al's favorite things included: holidays with his siblings, nieces, and nephews, Stetson Cologne (spray bottle only), denim jackets, hooded sweatshirts with front pouches, playing the harmonica and guitar, listening to classic rock bands (such as The Rolling Stones, Canned Heat, and Lynrd Skynrd), Chicago Cubs, McDonald's Cheeseburgers, Casey's Pizza, Green Bay Packers (somewhat by force... thanks to his sister Melissa), and sharing stories of his wild adventures (like hitch-hiking to San Diego) when anyone came to visit.

Al is survived by his mother, Delores Schaeuble of Sioux City, four brothers: Mike (Terri) Schaeuble of Bloomington, IN, Gary Schaeuble of Sioux City, Kevin (Shelly) Schaeuble of Kingsley, and Terry Schaeuble of Lake View. He is also survived by four sisters: Susan (Jim) Espinoza of Tucson, AZ, Lisa Schaeuble of Pipestone, MN, Tracey (Danny) Pick of Sioux City, and Melissa (Randy) Stitz of Green Bay, WI.

He was preceded in death by his father, Raymond "Ray" Schaeuble; his brother, Richard Schaeuble; his grandparents, and several cousins, aunts, uncles.

The family would like to extend extreme gratitude to Al's caregivers, especially in his final years, including Dr. David Daniels, Dr. Ernesti, Dr. Haeker, Albert O'Kine PA, Dr. Kosta Antonopoulos, the staff at June E. Nysten Cancer Center, and all of the Staff at Westwood Nursing Home who he thought of as some of his closest friends.

“ Al was full of stories. He loved his family. His heart was enormous. You had to be cautious about telling him you liked any of his few possessions, because he'd try to give them to you before you left. He had the best memories of childhood adventures with his brothers and wanted to see pictures and be updated on all his nieces and nephews. It was a blessing have him close to mom on his final years so she could visit him regularly and daily during his final days. Many of my visits with Al were spent talking about the latest hunting/fishing adventures of my husband and son or the latest adventures of my daughter, who was his God-daughter. I'd have to be sure he wasn't eating or drinking once we started talking because conversations would end in laughter to the point that we'd both be choking with tears running down our cheeks. Since he's passed, there have been memories being made that I've stored to share at our next visit....my heart does break knowing that those visits are gone. Al was NEVER a burden, he was ALWAYS a blessing to me and I love him and will miss him immensely.
