Born on April 22, 1955 in Carroll, Iowa, James was the son of Herman and Alita (Stangl) Bauer. He grew up on a farm near Dedham, and attended Willey-Dedham Schools. Jim then went on to graduate from Kuemper Catholic High School in 1973. On August 27, 1977, Jim was united in marriage to Judy Kerkhoff at Sacred Heart Church in Templeton, Iowa. Soon after their marriage Judy accepted a nursing position at Stewart Memorial Hospital in Lake City, and the couple made their home there.

Buck worked for Wayne Nepple Plumbing and Heating in Carroll for several years before starting his own Bauer Plumbing in 1982, serving Lake City and the surrounding areas. He enjoyed his work and the friendships he developed because of it. A farmer without water was his priority. On the side, Jim loved going out to an acreage to take care of his cattle. His life was family- especially his grandchildren, his faith and work. He was proud of his 1965 Mustang and other classic cars that he had purchased throughout the years. Jim belonged to St. Mary's Parish in Lake City, the Knights of Columbus, and was a 25 year member of the Lake City Volunteer fire Department.

Left to cherish Jim's memory is his wife of over 39 years, Judy Bauer of Lake City; his son, Jason Bauer and his wife Jenah (Muhlbauer) and their children: Justin, Jace, and Jalee, with 1 more arriving soon. Also surviving are his siblings: Lois Beyerink of Roselle, Diane (Dan) Seidl of Coon Rapids, Kenny (Diane) Bauer of Arcadia, and Duane (Cindy) Bauer of Dedham; his sister-in-law: Judy (Clarence) Ziegman of Carroll; his brothers-in-law: Stan (Kathy) Kerkhoff of Carroll, and Dale (Joleen) Kerkhoff of Templeton; as well as many nieces, nephews, other extended relatives, and countless friends.

Jim was preceded in death by his parents; son Jeremy Bauer on October 14,

2011, parents-in-law: Robert and Evelyn Kerkhoff; brothers: Marlin Bauer, and Dennis Bauer; and his brother-in-law: Ralph Beyerink.
