On April 5, 2008, Ryan was united in marriage to Jennifer Irlmeier at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Willey. The couple made their home in Carroll and later moved to the Irlmeier Family Farm near Coon Rapids.

He truly enjoyed conversations with his friends and family, working with cattle, and will be remembered for his talent of grilling. Ryan was a member of St. Mary's Church in Willey.

Left to cherish his life is his wife, Jennifer Handlos of Coon Rapids; his children: Paige Kidney, Aiden Handlos, and Emma Handlos, all at home; his parents: Gary and Jan Handlos of Willey; his sisters: Kenzie (Bret) Schreck of Carroll, and their children, Ava, Max, Alexa, and Amelia; and Kellie (Brian) Brenny of Carroll and their children: Ella, Emersyn, and Finn; his grandmother, Leona Riesberg of Halbur; his parents-in-law, Joan Irlmeier of Coon Rapids and Randy Irlmeier of Coon Rapids; his brother-in-law, Phil (Kelly) Irlmeier of Ankeny and their children, Ethan and Evan; as well as many aunts, uncles, cousins, and many friends.

“ We are so sorry to hear of Ryan's death. Our thoughts and prayers go out to his family.
We visited the farm when Ryan was about eleven-years-old with our sons about the same age. Ryan took them for a ride in a pick-up truck and seemed so grown-up and capable.
I always though he was so mature and good natured.

“ Ryan called our home three weeks ago and talked to Jim for sometime discussing farming, livestock and just his life happenings. He certainly was a happy married man and loved his children. Gary and Jan can be proud they raised a wholesome Iowa boy who was an enthusiastic next generation farmer. His ability to communicate and availability to extend a helping hand are characteristics we'll always remember. We truly extend our sympathy to all.
