“ With sincere sympathy, we are thinking of Greg and all of his family during this difficult time of loss. Vera was so lucky to have you all... And you her.

My mother, LaVonne, and I did not have the pleasure of knowing Vera. But it is easy to see her values, those values she handed down to her children: honestly, integrity, service, hard work and compassion.

Please accept our heartfelt condolences.

“ Vera Siemann was a wonderful, intelligent, kind woman. I got to know Vera and Cecil after they moved to Carroll in the early 60's through their son Greg... who has been a great friend to me since that time. Spending time in the Siemann home was always interesting with many spirited discussions of books, politics, local issues and other matters....and Vera could certainly hold her own. She was always good to me and always quick to set another place at their large table. However, looking back I'm sure the last thing she needed was another mouth to feed. I worked for Cecil one summer at his Culligan Water business where he attempted to teach a young college kid a little bit about dealing with customers, hard work and the importance of getting a good nights sleep and arriving at work on time. There were many good life lessons to be learned in the Siemann home and Vera was at the heart of that home.
Sleep well dear Vera and thanks for everything. Your rest is well deserved.

“ Vera was beautiful, inside and out. Devoted to her family, she instilled in them the virtues of kindness, thoughtfulness and graciousness. I think gracious is the best word to describe Vera Siemann. Always welcoming, sweet and encouraging, I always felt better about myself after having spent time with her. I once saw her just prior to a job interview and she reminded me to breathe, saying "you can't breathe and be nervous at the same time!" So true! On more than one occasion, when Diane and I were heading out of town, and would be gone on Diane's birthday, she would surreptitiously slip me $10 to assure that Diane would have cake and ice cream on June 15th! <3. Writing these words causes me to realize how I have benefited from knowing her, and how missed she surely will be by me and by so very many in this world. May God Bless her soul as she enters her eternal reward, and may God comfort her family and all who mourn her loss.

With love,

“ When I was director at St. Anthony Nursing Home, I would sometimes wheel Vera back to her room from breakfast or lunch. She was always very pleasant to me, and always remarked how she liked some item of clothing or jewelry I was wearing. She was a very easy resident to care for and she never complained. She often told me, "Greg is coming," or "Greg was here this morning." She realized how devoted Greg was to her and she eagerly anticipated his visits. I have many good memories of Vera. Thoughts and prayers to Vera's family.
